But I have been hard at work creating a new storyline for this site. I hope to have it up and running sometime this month, maybe even on February 1st. Stay tuned, and if you want to follow the progress, then subscribe to my rss feed. Like this: I've been plugging away at the site for a while now. But I'm going to have to say, time is up. We're going to be closing the site down in the coming weeks, and then start fresh in March. It's been a great ride, but it's time to turn things over to a new team. The reason it's time to say goodbye? Well, to start with, I'm hoping to have the site up and running again by March 2013. I can't give a definite date, but I'm hopeful that it will be sooner rather than later. I've also been bitten by a number of personal issues. I'm not going to get into details, but I've been dealing with a lot going on at home, and the project has taken a back seat. That being said, I'm going to finish up the short story that I've been working on for this site. Then I'll give you a few days to decide if you want to read it here or get it published elsewhere. I'm not one to procrastinate, so I'll be back later on in February with the new site, and hopefully will be able to start posting more regularly. There's no strict deadline, but I want to get this thing up and running by the end of March. Like this: I've been giving this site a workout lately. I've started and stopped it a few times, but I'm almost 2d92ce491b
